CALL COACHES HERE SUNDAY

School Board Studies New Candidate, Wm. Lohr, Scottsdale, Pa.

A new Salem High school football coach is expected to be chosen at an adjourned meeting of the board of education Sunday afternoon.

Attending the session will be three leading contenders for the post which was vacated by Carl Schroeder. They are Raymond Overturn, now coach at Geneva High school, Geneva, O.; John Karcis, coach at Pittsford, Pa.; and William Lohr, Jr., coach at Scottsdale, Pa., High school.

Lohr's name was injected into local scholastic picture for the first time last night when school board members met to "size up" the applicants in the field.

Unable to reach a decision and desirous of checking further into Lohr's record, the board decided upon the Sunday meeting. Lohr is a graduate of Penn State college.

Overturn, the Geneva coach, is an Ohio Wesleyan graduate. Karcis, who has played pro football, was graduated from Carnegie Tech. All possess good football playing records.

Lester Drabentstott, assistant football coach at Mentor High school who was mentioned at the board's meeting last Monday, was not considered last night.

Since Monday, Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr, at the board's request, has made personal trips to the communities where the applicants now teach in order that nothing might be left undone in the school board's attempt to bring in the right man to fill the coaching vacancy.

DEFENSE COST NOW REACHES 52 BILLIONS

FDR Asks $3,323,000,000 More Today for Maritime Commission

OVER 4 BILLIONS SOUGHT FOR ARMY

Additional 7 Billions For More Lease-Lend Funds To Be Asked

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt asked congress today for $3,323,000,000 more for the navy and maritime commission, thus pushing the projected cost of defense and lease-lend spending past $52,000,000,000.

The soaring figure included $4,770,000,000 Mr. Roosevelt asked for the army only yesterday but did not embrace the $7,000,000,000 which authoritative forces said was in the mill for additional lend-lease funds for nations fighting aggression.

That $7,000,000,000 would push the overall figure since July 1, 1940 — when the fall of France stirred the United States to concerted action — to $59,200,000,000.

Cash expenditures, so far, total $6,300,000,000. In the fiscal year which began this month, the cash outlay is expected to be $15,500,000,000.

Pays For Repairs

Included in the $1,625,000,000 which Mr. Roosevelt sought for the navy in cash was $400,000,000 for maintenance and repair of defense installations in government or privately owned merchant ships. Correspondents at once asked whether this meant that merchant vessels would be armed. Mr. Roosevelt assured his press conference that this was not contemplated and that the bulk of the sum undoubtedly would be used for naval ships. He suggested it would be applied to such things as fitting vessels with equipment to combat magnetic mines. He added he supposed conversion of some private vessels to navy use was contemplated also.

Mr. Roosevelt sought $698,000,000 in cash and $1,000,000,000 in additional contract authorizations for the maritime commission. He said the money would be used for a great many new ships, but did not disclose the exact number.

Both of the requested items today, the chief executive explained, were necessary because the defense

FIGHTING GOES ON IN FRENCH SYRIA

Vichy Government Studies Terms of British Armistice

(By Associated Press)
VICHY, Unoccupied France, July 11.—The Vichy government, after studying British terms for an armistice in Syria, announced today it had found them unacceptable and indicated that the fight with the British and De Gaulle's would go on.

"The English text of armistice conditions is in basis and in form unacceptable for the French government," said the announcement.

VICHY, Unoccupied France, July 11.—Advices from Syria reported heavy fighting going on in the French mandate today while the French government studied British armistice terms received at 11 p. m. last night.

Informed quarters said the French reply would be delivered as quickly as possible, and that the British proposals were sent at once to the French high commissioner in Syria, Gen. Henri Dentz, who

U. S. AIDS SEE BIG TAX JOLT

Income Charges Will Be Heavier Than Expected, Is Report

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Treasury experts, giving a thought to the many state taxes, warned today that the jolt of next year's income taxes is going to be heavier than many people anticipated.

For instance, assuming enactment of the new federal income tax program along the lines planned by the house ways and means committee, a married man with one child and a $10,000 taxable income will owe Uncle Sam $1,116.

State Taxes Added
But if this man lived in New York, he would have to add on about $260 for the New York income tax, and his total bill for income taxes would be $1,376. In California, he'd add $92, in Missouri $165 and in North Carolina $348.

These figures are not necessarily typical, but 31 states have individual income taxes similar to the federal levy. Besides income taxes, of course, both state and federal government have a multiplicity of tobacco, liquor, sales, estate, and other taxes.

One reason the state income taxes will make a heavy addition to the federal tax in many cases is that some states do not permit their citizens to make deductions for their federal taxes although the federal government gives a credit for state income taxes. Of the four states used as examples in this article, only Missouri gives a credit for federal income tax.

Salem's 2 Horsemen Kansas City-Bound

A series of phone calls, post cards, and letters disclosed today that Ted and Ken are Kansas City-bound after a two-day stay on Rolling Rock ranch near Burlington, Io. They expect to reach Keosauqua, Ia., tonight and will stay on the shores of the Des Moines river near the state line.

Ted, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lawton of Canfield, called home last night and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Taylor of the Albany rd. expect a call from Ken tonight.

Dr. Lawton yesterday received a card from Mrs. Norris Staat of Avon, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Staat entertained the boys over a weekend. Portions of Mrs. Staat's letter follow:

"It was about 4:30 Saturday when the boys arrived. The horses didn't seem tired but the boys did. They took a bath and we had supper. Then we drove into Avon as we all had a little shopping to do. Ted had his boots sewed up while we were there.

"On Sunday" Mr. Norris told the boys to sleep and he would look after the horses but the boys were up bright and early. He took them to the pasture to see the mares and their colts. They then gave their horses a bath. I admitted the good care which they, as boys of 13, gave their horses."

Today's card, from the boys themselves, follows:

"Dear Folks,

"We liked the place where we stayed for a day's rest so we stayed another day.

"We helped haul a load of hay and had a good time.

"We made a bucking horse out of a barrel with ropes that's worse than a horse to ride.

LONDON, July 11.—A mighty new German offensive, aimed at overwhelming results, is under way in Russia, it was reported reliably today.

An offensive pointed at Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev is to be backed with the full might of Adolf Hitler's mechanized divisions, according to these reports.

One neutral source said that if the Germans push as far in the next 10 days as they did in the first seven of the vast campaign on the eastern front "they will have gone a long way toward winning the initial campaign of the Russian war."

SCHOOL LEVY IS EXPLAINED

Needed to Meet Additional Expenses, Supt. Kerr Tells Kiwanis

The board of education's 1.5 mill levy, for two years, to be voted on at the primary next month, is designed primarily to provide operating funds to meet additional requirements recently placed on public schools and for which additional revenue has not been provided.

So explained Supt. Earl Kerr before the Kiwanis club at Thursday's noon meeting in the Memorial building.

Lists Additional Expense

Among the additional requirements, Supt. Kerr listed free textbooks, additional pupil transportation service, vocational trade extension classes and extended instruction in health and sanitation. He pointed out that the 10 per cent reduction in teachers' salaries for the coming school year was necessitated by the fact that the board is required to provide additional educational service without additional income.

"No reduction can be made," he emphasized, "in expenditures for coal gas, electricity, insurance and building maintenance. In fact, some of the older school buildings are in such condition that continually greater expense is incurred in keeping them in operating condition."

As an example of this type, Supt. Kerr referred to the necessity of rebuilding the heating plant at the Prospect school before the opening of the fall term of school.

Board Forced to Act

"Since the board of education's income has not increased, while school requirements have jumped, the board had no choice but to reduce salaries," Kerr declared.

The superintendent asserted that of all cities in Ohio comparable in size, the proportionate share of total real estate taxes going to support public schools was lowest in Salem.

"The levy," he said, "is one means of insuring that Salem will keep abreast of other cities in the opportunities it affords for the public education of its children."

WILLKIE PROVES ACCURATE GUESSER

Advocacy of Bases in Eire May Be Only Prelude To Actuality

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

(Special News Service)

Wendell Willkie's advocacy that the United States should follow up the occupation of Iceland by the establishment of bases in northern Ireland and Scotland naturally has given rise to vigorous speculation as to whether perchance he is the seventh son of a seventh son and therefore endowed with the tongue of prophecy.

Now this column doesn't claim to know whether Mr. Willkie has special power of prophecy, but frankly we sometimes have thought he did have. In any event it may be said that since we weren't vastly surprised at the occupation of Iceland, so we shouldn't be astonished if the Republican leader got his wish.

Willkie's idea contemplates strategic potentialities of great importance.

For one thing, most trans-Atlantic shipping to England now has to use the northern sea route which takes it round northern Ireland and thence down into the Irish sea. This is so because the

FDR REPLIES TO WHEELER'S ACCUSATIONS

ALL OF IT, HOWEVER, IS LEGAL, HE SAYS

Silent On Willkie Proposal To Put U. S. Bases On Isles

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Secretary Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark voiced what were termed by committeemen "categorical denials" before the senate naval committee today of published charges that the American navy had engaged in combat with Nazi naval units.

In a closed session lasting more than three hours, the secretary of the navy and the navy's chief of operations were reported to have denied "line by line" demands made in a resolution introduced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) to know whether the navy had engaged in a "shooting war."

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt declared today he would not be surprised if American steel had gone into 50 British bases and if American workmen all over the world were being paid by the British government.

And this, he said, is perfectly legal. The President made his statement at a press conference where the question of construction of American bases in Ireland or Scotland arose. Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) has said he had information such construction was under way.

Straight Purchases

When a reporter remarked that there seemed to be some substantiation from abroad for the senator's contentions, the President said whatever was being done was being accomplished through straight purchases by the British government or under the lease-lend act.

It was then he went on to say he would not be surprised if Americans were working for the British all over the world and American steel was being used in bases from Canada to South Africa and God knows where.

Mr. Roosevelt had no comment on the suggestion of Wendell L. Willkie that American bases be established in the British Isles.

Wheeler asserted that cargoes of materials already had been sent to northern Ireland or construction of United States naval bases.

Wheeler thus trumped the assertion made by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) yesterday that the United States was engaged in constructing

WE'RE GLAD THEY BROUGHT IT UP

Germany's puppet press and radio apparently think they can use the Monroe doctrine as a stick to beat the United States with over the Iceland situation. This government, they charge, has betrayed its own policy.

If Nazidom's editorial writers and radio commentators were to look again, they'd find that the Monroe doctrine—which most Americans don't understand very well either—originated out of fear that the Holy Alliance would gang up on the western hemisphere to crush popular government, which it despised. They would find that it was a device to prevent colonization in this hemisphere by European powers that wanted to make the world safe for the version of dictatorship that was popular in the old world in 1823; it was called autocracy then. They would discover that the United States pledged itself to stay out of the "internal" affairs of Europe's power and reserved the right to prepare for its defense in any way whenever it felt that its "rights" were invaded or seriously menaced. They would learn, also, that many Americans never have realized, that this was done on the suggestion of the British foreign secretary, George Canning, and put into effect with the cooperation of Great Britain, whose navy then and now is indispensable to the pledge that European despotism shall not be cultivated by remote control in the western hemisphere. Canning said, "I called the new world into existence to redress the balance of the old."

The Monroe doctrine means what it always has meant, that the United States will not tolerate the spread of European ideologies into this hemisphere insofar as that might entail interference with American governments through colonization. It also means that the United States, whenever it suspects attempts are afoot to do this, will take whatever steps may seem necessary to make it impossible. One of those steps has turned out to be occupation of Iceland by United States troops. It is understandable why the autocrats of 1941 are peevish about it, but before making a club out of the Monroe doctrine they should read it.

AND AS FOR THE HAIR SPLITTERS

Iceland is placed in both the eastern and western hemispheres when cartographers divide the earth into eastern and western divisions. Most of it lies in the eastern hemisphere, the rest just over the line.

There are some who might go far enough with hair-splitting to insist that whatever the United States may do in the interests of its own security in Iceland should be done in the western hemisphere portion. They might be willing to let an arbitrary decision of map makers influence national defense to that extent.

There are others who deny that national defense has anything to do with Iceland. They apparently see it as some kind of a trick to get the United States into war and apparently have not realized that the United States went to war last fall when it gave away 50 warships that Britain needed in return for the right to build naval bases on British territory. What the United States is doing now is making sure it doesn't lose a war in which it already has taken sides.

It is unfortunate that matters like the Iceland quibble cannot be avoided because of the confusion they cause. It is as though rational beings were to discuss whether it is better to tackle the burglar as he enters the dining room window, or wait till he walks through the bedroom door, when all of them know the best way is to have a policeman tackle him when he starts out on a job before any damage has been done. Granted that United States troops on Iceland constitute a shock, the shock is a caress compared with what would happen if the troops on Iceland happened to be Germany's. This is one of those situations, common in wartime, where it isn't a theory that confronts apprehensive human beings but a condition. If Americans are so uncertain of their own government that they cannot trust it to set up a defense against possible aggression, they at least should have the grace to admit their state of mind and forego its protection entirely.

LESSON IN GRAND STRATEGY

While it continues to be true that the Russo-German war might be a myth, because no trustworthy reports are being given out, the fact that propagandists all say there is a major war in progress must be admitted as evidence of a fact.

The grand strategy of the war they describe is breath-taking in scope. On a line equal to the distance from Nome, Alaska, to San Francisco, the two largest and strongest armies of the world are joined in combat to determine the survival of one and perhaps both combatants.

With only one active enemy left in Europe, Germany has chosen to attempt the destruction of its traditional enemy in Asia. With Russia gone the Germans would be so firmly entrenched in Europe that nothing could move them. Whether or not they tried to invade the British Isles, they would be the masters of the continent.

British bombers could attack them ceaselessly, and they could continue their attacks on Great Britain, but unless armies came face to face there would be no decision. It is this prospect that causes Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to reject a forthcoming German "peace" offer in advance. It is this prospect that makes the Russo-German war what Adolf Hitler says it is, a history-making conflict.

The outcome depends wholly on how well the Russians have prepared to defend themselves against invasion. The war is moving eastward rapidly from the buffer zones established to soften the enemy before he reached the frontier and the final line of defense—the Stalin line, whatever it may prove to be worth. Since the Germans seem willing to admit the Russians are fighting courageously, they will not lose because they lack courage. They will lose only if the supposition of Russian defense is proved false—the supposition that Russia could defend itself so well that Germany could not withstand the tremendous cost of invasion.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, July 12

AN EXTREMELY lively and enterprising day is read from interesting planetary auspices. Things will move in all directions under high tempo, with workaday matters as well as personal, social, cultural and festive occasions bringing excitement as well as much pleasure and profit. The young are especially joyous and fortunate, with courtship and marriage looming large and all manifestations of friendly interest and human welfare spurring to activity. There may be need of some conservatism in outlay of funds and litigation is threatened.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an unusually lively and exciting year, with all affairs moving in exhilarating grooves, both in the business and private life. Business should be promising, with new things under fine stimuli for success and expansion. But shun extravagance, false values and even dubious promises, although surprising friendships, even romance, are of utmost importance in the progress and happiness of the year. There may be some menace of litigation, unless astuteness be exercised. Youth should find joy and prosperity.

A child born on this day should be exceedingly talented, versatile and energetic and should have a happy, romantic and successful career, although prone to show extravagance and perhaps bombast.

A movie star ordered his tailor to make him two $120 suits to look as though they cost $20. Well, if the actor's tailor can't do it, our tailor can. Our suits always look as though they cost $11.98 plus tax and postage.

WHEN BABY'S STOMACH IS UPSET

Feeding to Blame Sometimes, Says Clendenning

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Young mothers are confronted with no more worrisome problem than having the baby lose its meals regularly by vomiting. An occasional vomiting spell is to be expected and

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

does no harm, but when it gets to be a regular habit, it is a real cause for concern.

Looking over the histories of a series of such cases, one is struck by the frequent changes of food and formulae. This is perfectly natural, since the anxious mother is at her wit's end to find something that will agree with the baby.

It is probable that the changes are sometimes the cause of the condition, and upset the baby more than if a single routine formula were followed. The type of food given is not so often the cause of habitual vomiting in babies as some other factors, however.

Air Swallowing
One common cause that is not considered often enough by the mother is air swallowing. This is due to improper technique of feeding—improperly shaped nipples with the holes too large or too small, or failure to remove the nipple from the baby's mouth often enough, or feeding with the baby lying on its back, or the use of pacifiers, or finger sucking.

Too frequent feeding may also be a cause. Babies should not be fed oftener than every three hours.

Still another mistake is too much food. The baby may regurgitate or actually vomit simply because it is overloaded with food. The food of the vomiting baby, however, should not be diluted. It requires a more concentrated formula with less water.

Food Formulae
The faults that are found in the food formulae themselves are usually that they are too rich in cream. This invariably causes vomiting in some children. Spoilage of food due to improper refrigeration may have to be considered. Both of these problems may be met by changing to a dried milk preparation and preparation of individual feedings.

Tough curds may be noticed in the vomitus and might be a cause. They can generally be overcome by boiling the cow's milk formula or adding lactic acid to the formula or using evaporated milk.

The possibility of an obstruction to the outlet of the stomach which occurs in young children and causes a persistent vomiting from birth is known to every physician. But this is a rare condition and, besides, the vomiting is continuous, which is not exactly the problem we are considering here. Severe constipation may be a cause. It can be relieved by correcting the formula or by the use of mineral oil.

Questions and Answers
D. H. D.: "Is there anything serious in having little white spots on the lips?"
Answer: "No. The condition is known as Stelwagon's disease and is simply a thickening of the openings of the little ducts of the glands that lubricate the mucous membrane."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

MYSTIFYING FOE, BERLIN IS SILENT

Soviet Proclaims Red Army Has Stopped Germans In Tracks

In the battles of Minsk and Bialystok in the first week of the 20-day-old campaign.

A gigantic twin battle behind the German lines in Poland has ended with the capture of nearly a third of a million Russians, according to the German high command, and presumably the mass of Nazi tanks and infantry engaged in the vast mop-up now may be turned against the Stalin line.

The greatest material and equipment battle in the history of the world were the words which the German high command used in a special communique last night to announce the capture of 323,898 Soviet soldiers in an encircling operation over an area the size of the state of Illinois.

The enormous net was spread in the Bialystok-Minsk area when two German spearheads met in a drive at Moscow.

War prisoners taken since June 22 now number more than 400,000, the communique said.

"Mystifying the Enemy"

Meanwhile, omission of details regarding the campaign elsewhere presumably was in line with the German high command's policy of "mystifying the enemy with silence." The only official word of the fighting was that it was progressing satisfactorily.

Later there were Nazi reports that the Russians had tried to break through the German net.

Prior to the special communique the high command confirmed an unofficial announcement, made Wednesday, that Salla, former Finnish town now within the Soviet territory, had been captured, and a whole Russian division, defending the place, had been crushed.

Otherwise there was silence, and even anonymous spokesmen could not be persuaded to break in.

Speaking of reports emanating from military circles in Vichy, alleging German reverses in the Russian campaign, a spokesman said "similar stories were circulated by enemy propagandists in previous campaigns, notably in Poland, France and Greece."

Nazi Stopped—Moscow

MOSCOW, July 11.—Adolf Hitler's huge panzer machine which rolled over western Europe has been stopped cold on the road to Moscow and the Red air force is blasting at the northern and southern wings where the Blitzkrieg still shows some signs of life, a Russian communique claimed today.

With the Russian-German conflict entering its 20th day the Soviet command heralded the report of German setback by declaring that a full had descended on the long Baltic to Black sea battle lines.

"Nothing of consequence occurred on the front," said the Soviet announcement.

The implication was that the fury of the Nazi legions was spent and that the Germans no longer were attacking.

This was further borne out by a communique today which said "nothing particular occurred on the fronts during last night."

Heaviest Blows In Air

Heaviest blows mentioned by the Russians were in the air. Sixty-eight German planes were reported shot down and destroyed on the ground yesterday and last night against nine Russian planes lost. Eight Russian bombers were declared to have attacked 15 German fighters and brought down four of them without a Soviet loss.

Russian aviation, however, was declared busily engaged in dealing blows at German motor and tank detachments in the Ostrov region in the north, where the Nazis have put stronger pressure on a drive toward Leningrad, and in the Novograd Volynski sector where the German spearhead is aimed at Kiev in the Ukraine.

Numerous troop detachments were reported destroyed along the western Dvina river where they had forced a passage toward Estonia in the Leningrad push.

Although the Red army contended it had successfully parried the rain of mechanized blows aimed at a knockout and had now brought the reichswehr to a standstill, it gave a few glimpses of the titanic struggle which has raged for nearly three weeks across the plains of eastern Europe.

One grim detail was supplied of the battle west of Moscow where the Russians yesterday reported a German division destroyed and another routed.

Meet Tank Offensive

A formidable tank offensive was met by a hail of artillery fire which left 70 Nazi tanks flaming, smoking and rent, said the Soviet communique, but even the Nazis refused to quit and attempted a second attack.

Again some dozens of tanks were declared to have been the victims of Soviet artillerymen and bombers.

However, the Germans came on and succeeded in making a slight penetration of the Soviet lines.

Then an entire German infantry division was reported thrown into the breach.

But before it could deploy in familiar German mushrooming tactics, the Russians said, Soviet tanks and motorized units charged up and cut it off, and Soviet planes began a merciless strafing.

More than 3,500 Germans were declared left dead and wounded on the field while 2,400 were taken prisoners.

URGES REDUCTION IN WHEAT PENALTY

COLUMBUS, July 11.—While new complaints rose in Ohio today against the government's wheat marketing quota system, U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati Republican, introduced a bill to reduce the marketing penalty from 49 cents to the original 15 cents a bushel.

Placing the measure before the senate in Washington, Taft said that much wheat was planted before the penalty—imposed on growers who exceed their quota—became effective. The marketing plan was approved by farmers in a 37-state referendum in May; a majority of Ohio growers voted against it.

A group of Seneca county farmers organized a protest group at New Riegel, O., last night and began circulating petitions to congress opposing the regulations. They asked signers to contribute one dollar an acre in excess of their quotas to a fund to contest the issue in court.

Similar meetings were held in Washington Court House, Springfield, Radnor (Delaware county) and Urbana, O.

Urging modification of the penalties, Rep. U. S. Guyer (R-Kas) told the house agriculture committee that he believed applying the increased penalty to acreage already planted violated the constitution "by taking property without due process of law."

Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R-Ohio) said farmers voted on the marketing quota without having sufficient information about the penalty increase.

Grants Restraining Order

COLUMBUS, July 11.—Pending a hearing on the appeal, Judge Joseph D. Barnes of the district court of appeals granted Edward Knachel, Cleveland taxpayer, a temporary order restraining state officials from paying $85,000 to 272 agents for distributing sales tax stamps in Ohio. Common Pleas Judge Robert P. Duncan previously held the payments legal.

CONGRESS TIED UP ON STRIKE BILL

House Turns Down All But Deferment of Men 28

WASHINGTON, July 11.—After more than a month's debate, the house and senate found themselves in disagreement today on legislation for the discouragement of defense strikes, and for giving deferment from military training to selective service registrants over 28 years old.

Indications were that some compromise would be hammered out in committee, with the selective service proviso of the dual-purpose bill promising to be the earlier job.

The outlook on the strike control portion of the measure was more uncertain, for the house on separate bipartisan roll calls yesterday voted down the anti-strike clauses which the house committee had substituted for those previously approved by the senate.

All that was left in the dual measure when it finally passed 345 to 17 was its first paragraph providing for mandatory deferment from military training of men who were 28 and older on July 1.

On this particular point, the bill as it passed the senate provided only that the President be given discretionary authority to defer men of such ages.

The house never had a chance to vote on any of the main sections of the senate strike provisions yesterday, all of the tests coming on the substitute reported by its military committee, empowering the President to order production resumed at strike-bound plants and to protect workers desiring to return to their jobs.

Democratic leaders predicted, therefore, that while the house appeared dead set against the substitute it might ultimately approve the senate version or part of it at least.

Senator Connally (D-Tex), sponsor of the broader senate proposal authorizing the President to take over and operate struck plants, predicted the main provisions of his proposal would be finally approved.

Congress Demands Statement by Lear

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Congressional critics and the War department left it up to Lieutenant General Ben Lear today to present a "statement of fact" about the penance march he ordered for soldiers who yoo-hoed at Memphis girl golfers.

The statement, requested by the department, was to be "this side of the case," Major General Robert C. Richardson, chief of the Public Relations division, explained yesterday, adding that the department would not prejudice the incident and that a formal board of inquiry was not justified.

Meanwhile, Representative Kilday (D-Tex), who had previously telegraphed Lear for an explanation, indicated he was dissatisfied with what he called a "stereotyped reply."

Asserting there would be no repetition of "mass punishment by any commander," Kilday, a member of the House Military committee, declared he would bring up the incident at a closed committee session.

The Second army commander was playing golf in Mufti when the battalion rolled by the links in trucks. After soldiers shouted at the girls and jostled the general himself, Lear halted the troops, reprimanded them, and ordered a 15-mile march afoot as punishment.

Donovan Co-ordinator

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt today appointed William J. Donovan coordinator of information bearing on the defense program.

Donovan, who led the famous "Fighting 69th" during the World war, is to "collect and assemble information and data bearing on national security" from various government agencies and analyze the material for official government use.

WANTED MARRIAGE, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

COLUMBUS, July 11.—Rae Marsh, pretty night club singer, shot in the breast, today lay in White Cross hospital, where her condition was described as fair. The 26-year-old brunet was found wounded, a revolver beside her, in a hotel room two hours before she was to have appeared in a floor show at the Tombs night club last night.

Hotel attaches went to the room after R. N. Kleckner called from Youngstown saying that the girl had telephoned Leon Kramer and declared "unless you'll marry me, I'm going to kill myself."

Kramer has been master of ceremonies at the Tombs, owned by Kleckner. Kramer, recuperating at Kleckner's home, collapsed last Sunday after a game of badminton there with Miss Marsh.

Miss Marsh, who came to the Tombs two weeks ago from a Miami Beach club, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swisher of Marion, O.

COLUMBUS, July 11.—Ohio supplied 110 of the 257 army aviation recruits enlisted in the fifth corps area during June, Fort Hayes officers announced. Indiana recruited 81 men, Kentucky 43 and West Virginia 23.

program and shipbuilding program are ahead of schedule, so far as certain navy activity and cargo shipbuilding are concerned.

Mr. Roosevelt, replying to a question, said none of the funds was intended for repair of British vessels damaged by Axis attack.

He asserted that the expanded program had nothing to do with a widening foreign policy and that it was needed because the schedule of production had been stepped up and money was needed now instead of next January.

To a question whether the supplemental appropriation estimates being submitted to congress would mean increased taxes, the President said he supposed the answer was that you have a tax bill about every year. Tax bills are based on a year's operations and not on supplementary estimates that come along later, he said.

JAPAN DECIDES TO STAY CLEAR

SHANGHAI, July 11.—The Japanese government has decided to stay clear of the German-Russian war for the present but may make a move against French Indo-China in the near future, reliable persons arriving from Tokyo reported today.

These sources said the Japanese have been influenced in their policy by estimates that Russia still has 32 divisions on her Asiatic front, 12 of them mechanized, and despite the Russian-Japanese neutrality pact has moved but three divisions west.

WILLKIE PROVES ACCURATE GUESSER

Advocacy of Bases in Eire
May Be Only Prelude
To Actuality

fierce German bombing of the important British seaports on the south and east coasts has rendered them largely useless and has forced everything into the concentrated west coast ports, including Liverpool.

Nazi submarines and other vessels have been preying heavily on the shipping far to the west of Ireland. This region has been the scene of many of the sinkings which have created such a grave position for the Allies. The British have lacked the warships for adequate patrol of these waters.

Establishment of fully equipped American bases in northern Ireland and Scotland across the way would be calculated to revolutionize the position. Indeed it might be the determining factor in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Should America be drawn into the war, the value of such established bases to the Allied cause
obviously would be enormous.
They would be a safeguard against German invasion of the British isles, and a God-send if and when the Allies attempt an invasion of the continent.

BIG GAIN IS SHOWN IN SALES TAX FUND

COLUMBUS, July 11.—Ohio's three per cent sales tax poured a record $31,070,531 into state coffers for the first half of 1941. State Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported
today.

The total was $6,634,180 above
the corresponding 1940 figure for stamp sales, a gain of 27.1 per cent, Ebright said. Sales for the week ending June 30 were $2,247,551, compared with $1,415,747 for the same week last year.

All 88 counties shared in the increase, Ebright said, paced by those in which rearmament activities are centered.

The chain oil tax classification showed the greatest gain for the period—53.4 per cent. Motor vehicles were up 52.2, jewelry-leather 40.1
and home furnishings 34.1.
Stamp redemptions for the first half of 1940 totaled $588,163.
Cancelled stamps are redeemed at $3 per $100 face value.

Opposes Leaving Hemisphere

At the same time, Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, announced he was opposed to dispatching American armed forces to any additional points outside the doubtful reasons existed to justify further action in this regard.

With the question of additional Atlantic bases suddenly to the fore, members of the senate naval committee decided to ask Secretary of Navy Knox for information on the subject. Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, also was asked to appear.

The committee convened to inquire into reports that shooting has occurred in the past during encounters between vessels of the U.
S. Atlantic patrol and German naval units.

Knox has emphatically denied at his press conference all previous "shooting" reports, and there have been no official announcements of naval casualties due to hostile action since the inauguration of the Atlantic patrol.

37TH PARADES IN FULL WAR REGALIA

CAMP SHELBY, Miss., July 11.—
In full battle regalia, the 37th
Ohio division marched in review
today before its commander, Maj.
Gen. Robert S. Beightler.

It was the second full dress parade since the division entered federal training, but unlike the first, today's was not a display for the public and honored guests. The soldiers marched as a training operation designed to bring the whole division together into a unit to reveal its full motorized and man-strength.

The parade, under command of Brig. Gen. Ludwig S. Connelly of Bedford, O., required two hours to pass. The men marched nine abreast, wearing field uniforms, steel helmets and carrying fixed bayonets on their rifles. All vehicles in the division took part.

COMMUNISTS URGE IMMEDIATE ACTION

NEW YORK, July 11.—In the Communist party's first mass meeting since the beginning of the Russo-German war, a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden last night adopted a resolution calling upon President Roosevelt "fully and completely to implement" his pledge of assistance to the U. S. S. R.

Robert Minor, acting secretary of the party during the imprisonment of Earl Browder, told the crowd, estimated by police at 19,000, that it is "the sacred obligation" of American workers to produce every tank, gun, plane and ship at greatest possible speed for war on all fronts against Hitler.

U. S. EXPERTS SEE DECIDED TAX JOLT

Income Charges Will Be Heavier Than Expected, Is Report

The state income taxes weigh more or less heavily, depending on income brackets. Thus, the New York tax has a maximum rate of 7 per cent, while the California tax runs up to a maximum of 15 per cent.

Initial Rates Differ

But in California, the tax on the first $5,000 of income is only 1 per cent, while in North Carolina the rate on the first $2,000 is 3 per cent.

At present the proposed federal income tax would be a 4 per cent
"normal" tax, plus an immediate
"surtax" of from 5 to 75 per cent, plus a defense tax equal to 10 per cent of the normal and surtax rates.

If the examples were tested on a married man with one child and an income of only $2,500, his federal tax would be $5.50, plus state taxes of $3 in Missouri and $9 in North Carolina. His personal and family exemptions would be enough to escape the New York and California taxes.

Jockey Seriously Injured

HAMILTON, July 11.—Jockey
Lawrence White was in Mercy hospital today suffering severe injuries received when his mount, Rock High, somersaulted over a fallen horse in the sixth race at the Butler County fairgrounds yesterday. Rock High is owned by E. J.
Greenaway of Cuyahoga Falls.

City Manager Meditates

IRONTON, July 11.—City Manager L. G. Howe today considered city council's offer of a $750 a year salary increase to induce him to remain here instead of accepting a similar position at Port Huron, Mich. His salary here is $4,000 a year and he has been offered $5,500
at Port Huron.

Five Women Paroled

COLUMBUS, July 11.—Five inmates of the State Reformatory for Women at Marysville received releases today from the State Pardon and Parole commission. Among them were Irene Tudor, sentenced from Ross county for forgery, paroled effective Oct. 1.

Steelworker Drowns

PORTSMOUTH, July 11.—A steelworker, 33-year-old Howard Mahan, drowned in Wolf Den, a nearby
state forest lake.

OUTMODDED HABITS HIT BY ECONOMIST

Claims America Is Hurt
By Costly, Useless
Customs

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—That limp-looking necktie in the middle of July is not only "senseless," says John H. Sheehan, economics expert at Notre Dame University, but an "economic waste."

Outmoded customs and habits hurt America both socially and economically, this educator argues. Take the American habit of buying, he said. "If you want your full money's worth consult the home economics bulletins of your state universities and the United States labor and agricultural pamphlets," he advised.

The custom of observing holidays in the middle of the week is another social and economic wrong, according to Sheehan, who advocates attaching all holidays to the close of the weekend.

"Not only does industry lose approximately half a billion dollars yearly in the one-day shutdowns, but millions of people lose socially in the work interruptions," Sheehan said.

He blamed human inertia, ignorance and a general lack of courage for the failure of Americans to throw off the outmoded customs.

Even love goes on, dewy-eyed and saddled with "useless and outlandish" habits, Sheehan asserted. "This diamond-ring giving and honeymoon business work economic hardships on many young couples," he said, "although they are really non-essentials."

SHIRTWAISTER HAS NEW SKIRT

Pattern 4801

You may admire daring fashions on other women, but you want to feel at home in your own clothes. Pattern 4801 is an Anne Adams shirtwaister that shows plenty of new fashion interest, yet has all the familiar shirtwaister characteristics. A smooth hip-yoke forms two points in front and gives you a slender, long-waisted look. The top yokes in-one with the back bodice section, keep your shoulders trim and have darts below to hold the bodice softness under control. There are gathers, above waistline, too. You may match or contrast the notched collar. One smart panel goes down the front skirt; the back is perfectly plain. Both short and long sleeve versions are included in this style.

Pattern 4801 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric.

Science Perfects Vaccine To Combat Deadly Peril of Mountain Wood Tick

By BILL BEQUETTE
United Press Correspondent
HAMILTON, Mont.—The Rocky mountain wood tick, once a bone-chilling mankiller of the Pacific Northwest, today is almost a tamed bug—feared less by people than by sheep and cattle, source of the tick's existence.

Dr. R. R. Parker, director of the U. S. Public Health Service laboratory here, indicated, in an article soon to be published in the American Journal of Tropical Medicine, that 15 years' use of vaccine against spotted fever had proved vaccination 91.89 per cent preventive.

In 1915, the Rocky Mountain wood tick killed more than 500 persons in Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Oregon. In 1939, fewer than 100 died of tick bites.

High Immunity Established
In the Western Montana area—most virulent in the world, according to Dr. Parker—of those who contracted the disease between 1925 and 1939, three of the 37 who had been vaccinated died, while 42 of the 51 persons who had not been protected succumbed.

Dr. Parker's statistics showed deaths from spotted fever in the Pacific Northwest since 1935, have decreased almost in direct proportion to liters of vaccine used.

Cost of the serum for one person once was $20. Today it is $1. Before May 19, 1924, when Dr. R. R. Spencer, who pioneered tick vaccine, injected a mixture of ground-up ticks and weak carbolic acid into his arm, almost everyone who contracted the disease died.

Fatalities were so high that natives of the Bitterroot valley dared not venture into the mountain canyons where infected ticks lurked on every tree and bush. People who lived in the infected area abandoned their homes to the deadly bugs.

Old School House Used
Then in 1921, Dr. Spencer, Dr. Parker, an entomologist, and their assistants, Henry Cowan, Bill Gettlinger and Elmer Greenup, established a laboratory in an old school house near Hamilton. They began searching for an antidote for the deadly bite.

The ticks killed Cowan and Gettlinger. They died, shivering, with temperatures above 103, their skins covered with black spots. But Spencer discovered the immunizing magic of a soupy concoction of ground-up ticks and weak carbolic acid.

Today the laboratory has a staff of 125 and produces spotted fever vaccine for most of the United States, Canada and Brazil. The mixture of squashed ticks and carbolic acid has been supplanted by a new vaccine reared in a chicken egg and a new, modernly-equipped house where Dr. Parker and Dr. Spencer first turned a man-killer into a comparatively harmless insect of the Rocky Mountains.

Finger Painting Soothing To Tense Spastic Children

(By United Press)

DURHAM, N. C.—The medium of finger painting is opening up a new world of action and color for physically handicapped children who are unable to coordinate muscular control because of spastic paralysis.

Children in the spastic dormitory of Duke hospital for the first time in their lives are able to express themselves without muscular tension—tension which sometimes can bring on a chaos of writhing movements. The finger painting technique was originated by Miss Ruth Faison Shaw, famous painter, teacher and designer. The technique is simple—children dip their fingers into colored paint and "daub" the colors onto a board.

Remarkable pictures, sometimes are created by the children, who are unable to hold drawing pencils or brushes in their hands. Occasionally vivid and original designs are formed. The designs, adaptable to textile prints, may be a means of some of the "spastics" earning a living.

Brushes Fail Hands

Miss Isabel Moore, who proposed a project in rhythmic drawing in color for relaxation, ran into difficulties when she found the patients could not hold brushes or crayons very well, and Miss Shaw suggested finger painting.

There are no set rules in finger painting, and the child is left to create as he will. His senses are stimulated by the pleasant texture of the paint, and pupils who could not remain interested in one subject more than a few minutes were engrossed for hours in finger painting.

One child who has been unable to articulate an individual word, saw the other children working and pulled the hem of Miss Shaw's skirt to attract her attention: "Let me do it."

Other children, whose hands had been held tight and tense, relaxed for the first time as their fingers encountered the yielding paste-like paint.

Often, Miss Shaw says, the realization of physical shortcomings in a child "builds up an emotional conflict that aggravates his condition. In our experimental classes we find that the birth-injured child tactfully but unremittently trained to a determination to surmount his handicaps encouraged too a sense of accomplishment by work especially adapted to his individual needs, gradually acquires greater confidence and assurance. This in turn helps him to be more oblivious of his condition."

Technique Developed Abroad
Miss Shaw developed the technique while abroad, opening her first school in 1923 in Rome. In 1932 she was called to Paris to give a public demonstration. She lectured at the Sorbonne, instructed at the Trocadero school, and arranged for six exhibitions of the work of her pupils. Later she came to America and demonstrated finger painting at the Dalton school in New York.

Patients range in age from 4 to 14. Older girls, she said, produced

The greatest hardship was learning not to bolt when a guidon was lowered in salute. It reminded her too much of the barrier.

NAVY GETS MEDAL FOR FAMOUS SUB SAFETY DEVICES

Cresson Medal Is Awarded For Lung And Rescue Chamber

PHILADELPHIA—For developing the safest and surest means of rescuing trapped seamen from disabled submarines, the United States Navy has been awarded the Cresson medal of achievement by Franklin Institute.

Bestowal of the medal gave recognition to research workers who labored at the Washington Navy Yard when the submarine S-4 sank off Massachusetts in 1918.

The S-4 sank off Massachusetts in 1918. Thirty-one men were lost in a wooden compartment at the time of the accident.

Only devices available up to that time were a helmet and a breathing bag in use by the Germans. For collective rescue the raising of the vessel by pontoons had to be relied upon.

The navy researchers solved the problem with the United States Lung and Rescue chamber. Success came after arduous tests conducted in a 60-foot deep tank.

Tests which involved a lung which gas made ascents from depths of 300 feet.

Ude Sam's rescue chamber was used to save 26 living seamen on the ill-fated Squalus which sank in 240 feet of water in May, 1938.

The navy researchers solved the problem with the United States Lung and Rescue chamber. Success came after arduous tests conducted in a 60-foot deep tank.

Tests which involved a lung which gas made ascents from depths of 300 feet.

Ude Sam's rescue chamber was used to save 26 living seamen on the ill-fated Squalus which sank in 240 feet of water in May, 1938.

Thirty-one men were lost in a wooden compartment at the time of the accident.

Only devices available up to that time were a helmet and a breathing bag in use by the Germans. For collective rescue the raising of the vessel by pontoons had to be relied upon.

Plays Checkers During 69 Years

(By United Press)

ANTIGO, Wis.—Want to forget there is such a thing as time? Take up checkers.

That advice comes from W. J. Zahl, 84, who has been playing the game for 69 years. Time, he asserts, no longer troubles him.

Almost any evening you might find Zahl's white head bent over a checkerboard at his home here. There might be an opponent opposite him, or he might be studying a move in one of the matches which he carries on by mail.

In either case, it's a good bet that the other fellow is about to lose a king or be bottled up in a corner, for Zahl has few peers on what he calls the "magic board."

Zahl takes great pride in his library of checkers publications. On his shelves are first editions of a number of magazines devoted to the game most of them now out of print, and collections of checkers problems gathered from throughout the world.

The veteran refuses to be hurried in a match. A mail contest with a Californian lasted a year. He has been known to spend weeks studying a puzzling situation. Zahl doesn't like tournaments.

"Too much rush," he protests. "The game loses much of its value when you are hurried."

had requested the cessation of hostilities.

British Attack Reported

A heavy British attack on the French lines south of Beirut was said to have been launched yesterday at 3 p. m. and the latest dispatches said fighting still was raging.

Communications from Syria, however, have been slow. The French said they were holding against the assault and reported shooting down four British planes and damaging another at a cost to themselves of only one.

Despite conflicting reports from abroad, the radio station at Beirut in Lebanon said the city still was in Vichy hands, though the British admittedly had approached the outskirts.

The British terms were received during the night through the United States state department after 24 hours of confusion and conflicting reports during which the government first said to be studying British proposals, issued an official communique pointedly declaring the British had not deigned to answer a plea for cessation of hostilities.

Reply Is Guarded

Contents of the British reply were closely guarded, but it was reported the British proposed a complete armistice.

High Commissioner Gen. Henri Dentz was said to have requested a truce first, with armistice discussions to follow.

Other points at variance concerned reported British demands for participation in the French negotiations, and a free hand to Vichy troops to join the Free French forces if they do not wish to stay with France.

Authorized circles said they would not "treat with the DeGaulle command or allow native troops to be turned over to the DeGaulle army. These troops are engaged in the French army and must serve out their terms in the French army."

URGES ARMY GIVE GLIDER TRAINING

Soaring Expert Stresses Value In Use of Sail-plane

PHOENIX, Ariz. — One of the major factors neglected thus far in U. S. defense efforts is training glider pilots and use of the sail-plane as a military weapon, according to Lewin B. Barringer, author of the world altitude record for gliders.

Glider training, he said, would provide at minimum expense a huge reserve of young men, well grounded in the fundamentals of flying, from which could be drawn fighters, pilots, gunners, bombardiers, and observers for the regular air corps as well as other flying personnel.

He urged establishment of government-operated training centers for glider pilots, similar to ones used to train cadets in fighting planes. In addition, he advocated formation of glider clubs by youths interested in aviation.

Proved As Weapon

The glider, although it looks harmless in comparison with a 400-mile-an-hour fighter plane or a heavily-armed bomber, is used successfully as an offensive weapon by the Germans, Barringer said.

It was first tried by the Nazis in the invasion of Belgium and later in the battle of Crete, he said. The glider was directly responsible for the capture of the key forts in the Belgium line of defense and probably was the "secret weapon" which the Nazis boasted they used in conquering Fort Eben Emael, according to Barringer.

Barringer, who still holds the world record of 14,000 feet for sail planes, visited Germany in 1933-34 and inspected their glider and soaring schools.

"The Germans even then were forming the nucleus of a gigantic glider force," he said. "Today it is not improbable that they have trained 250,000 men to fly with gliders."

Nucleus of Luftwaffe

It was from these men, trained in flying motorless craft, that the Nazis developed their Luftwaffe, which has proved one of the dominating factors in the European war thus far, Barringer said.

He described the German use of the glider as an offensive weapon and stressed that its chief success lay in the inability of ground forces to detect its approach.

"The German method, insofar as we have been able to ascertain, is to use several large gliders, each holding five to eight men armed with light machine guns to a great height of about 20,000 feet just before dawn.

"Their chief value is the element of surprise. It has been proved that the key Belgian forts were taken by this method and that gliders are one of Hitler's chief 'secret weapons'."

Barringer has spent much time flying military airplanes as well as gliders. He has had eight forced landings since he began flying motor-powered craft in 1929.

"But I've never cracked up a plane," he said. "I attribute this to the landing technique I learned in gliding."

CORRESPONDENCE SWAMPS SOLDIER

CAMP SHELBY, Miss.—Private Clifford Brennerman, of Hartsville, O., first cook for Headquarters, Battery, 135 Field Artillery, felt neglected. He'd been in training with the Ohio National Guard at Camp Shelby for nearly two months and hadn't received a letter.

"Not even," he said, "from a bill collector."

Private Brennerman's top sergeant told a newspaper reporter about the first cook's unhappy plight. A few days later The Canton Repository, unknown to Brennerman, printed a story about it.

About five days later the battery formed for mess, and the top sergeant went through the battery's mail, calling out the name of the addressee of each letter.

He began repeating "Brennerman.... Brennerman.... Brennerman.... Brennerman...."

Private Brennerman was a little annoyed at being ridiculed in front of the battery. But his annoyance turned to pleased surprise when he was handed a half a dozen letters.

Since then the correspondence-hungry guardsman has received 75 letters, a box of cigars, a carton of cigarettes, and three invitations to visit Mississippi and Ohio families. Private Brennerman now spends every evening in his tent answering his mail.

Theatre Attractions

Groucho, Harpo and Chico Marx, stars of "The Big Store", showing at the State tonight and Saturday.

Pursuing a murderer on roller skates scarcely sounds like a practical way to catch him, but nothing is impossible in a Marx brothers film and they get their men in "The Big Store", showing at the State tonight and Saturday.

The three brothers are seen as private detectives commissioned to keep Tony Martin from being murdered. The object of their attentions has just inherited a share in a large department store, whose manager has been embezzling store funds and fears exposure if the new owner takes over.

The love story of Martin and a girl clerk, played by Virginia Grey, provides the romance, and Martin, a boys' choir, an orchestra, Harpo and Virginia O'Brien, songstress, take care of the music.

Douglas Dumbrille, Marion Martin, Henry Armetta, and Margaret Dumont are in the supporting cast. At the Grand tonight and tomorrow is a return showing of the technical, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine", featuring Fred MacMurray, Henry Fonda, Sylvia Sidney and Beulah Bondi.

Machine Tools Clip Minutes Into Seconds To Aid Defense

DETROIT — Airplane engines are rolling off production lines at a swifter pace than ever before. The American soldier today is far better equipped than in the World War.

These developments may be credited in part to the use of special-purpose machine tools, whose value as a production time-saver long ago was foreseen by the automobile industry.

Here's what designing special tools for a specific job has means to aircraft engine production:

A few months ago it took machinists 6 hours and 40 minutes to counterbore 250 holes in the crankcase or main framework of one of the airplane engines being used extensively by the American and British governments. Today the entire job requires only 65 minutes.

Hours' Work in 3 Minutes

Not long ago seven machines worked an hour drilling 14 holes into each cylinder of a similar engine. Now it takes three machines just three minutes for the same operation.

A fuel pump liner with an oddly-shaped interior surface formerly was produced at the rate of three per hour. Now the rate is 13 per hour.

Similar shortcuts, made possible by special machine tools, speeded output of Garand automatic rifles. Years ago it took 18 tool makers two years to complete 80 rifles. Today Garand rifles are turned out at the rate of 1,000 a day.

The American soldier's formidable ability to defend himself today also may be traced to specially-designed machine tools.

For instance:

He can fire his rifle thrice as fast as the soldier 25 years ago. He can travel as far in 20 minutes as he once did in a day.

His tank is a swift-moving fortress.

His long-range bomber can carry a maximum load of 22,500 ton-miles. The bomb load in the last war was 700 ton-miles.

Speed on Machine Guns

Time-saving procedure also have enabled two subsidiaries of General Motors — the A-C spark-plug division at Flint and the steering gear division at Saginaw — to place the machine guns into production eight months ahead of schedule.

One of these involved cleaning of gun barrels after test firing. Army ordnance officials formerly required that a gun, before acceptance by them, must be fired 200 times at various speeds, then cleaned and oiled to prevent corrosion by action of acids released by gunpowder. The barrel-cleaning, done by hand, required 48 hours. By obtaining permission to use equipment for chemical cleaning of metal grilles on cars before chromium plating, automotive engineers cut the time for barrel-cleaning to less than a minute.

FOR SPECIAL SERVICE" Maryse by Rutledge

SYNOPSIS
Anthony Worth, Jr., out of a job and really in need of a job, is inwardly annoyed when—on a park bench—reads of the gala life of madcap Marie Schuyler, current Glamour Girl. Her doings during a Mediterranean yachting trip are keeping press cables busy. If not burning, Marie is entertaining some elements of Old World society (and what passes for it) on a luxury cruise. The news mentions Felix Northrup, Marchese Lippi, Major Eric Thorne, Eve Pryor, and Ray Sheldon, as among her playmates. Tony Worth returns to the modest room of his old friend, Ed Keeler, now in government service. Ed tells him that the distinguished Judge Fairchild is looking for a capable man to do some "special service." Tony and Ed are now enroute to Keeler's office.

CHAPTER TWO
A red light held them on the curb "What do I do?" Tony asked briskly. His pulse was leaping.

Ed Keeler answered, "Plenty! You're in for a trip, trouble—and a beautiful girl."

Tony said, "Give me the trip and the trouble, but cut out the beautiful girl."

Ed Keeler looked at him with a peculiar intensity. "Perhaps you'll get the idea better when I tell you Judge Fairchild is Marie Schuyler's guardian—I mean the Schuyler girl, the Globe-Trotting Glamour Girl No. 1, the late B. J.'s daughter." He ignored Tony's quick frown.

"She's cruising around Greece with a party on that yacht of hers. Her guardian—she has three—think in the old cliché terms of fortune hunters, and they're scared stiff she'll fall for a title with nothing to back it. They want her brought home pronto."

Ed stepped in his point with his long forefinger. "They'd be sending an army for her if they knew what our Bureau suspects. Lady, she's got Felix Northrup on board! And wherever he is, the air reeks of brimstone!"

Tony Worth stared at the pavement, then said harshly, "Northrup may be the devil himself for all I care. But if special service means the Schuyler playgirl, then I'm out! She's a pest. I read about her cruise and her foreigners. They're welcome to her."

Tony Worth and "Ed" Keeler meet the latter's "Chief"

Ed Keeler grabbed his arm. "Don't be a chump! You can't let us down. It's all set."

Tony wrenched away. "Nothing doing, my friend. She's always sticking her neck out for trouble. Let her have it!"

The big fellow stepped in front of him. His voice was suddenly stern. "Listen, old pal. Fairchild dropped something big into our laps this morning. But we can't do a thing with it, if you don't play ball. It's going to take all you've got, and then some, to fill this job. I'll put it this way. In two months this playgirl, as you call her, comes of age. And she also comes into at least $35,000,000, besides what she has. That's American money."

Tony hesitated, his frown lingering as Ed insisted. "You'd better talk to the Chief. Believe me, we're not inviting you to any picnic." Ed Keeler hooked onto his friend's arm again, and this time Tony Worth didn't resist.

A quiet man, in an unpretentious office, glanced up from behind his desk as the two young men entered. He said, "Judge Fairchild couldn't wait."

It wasn't a reproach, but Keeler flushed to his curly hair and pushed Tony forward, muttering, "We couldn't make it any sooner."

"My fault," Tony explained quickly, and fingered the cryptic ad that Keeler had given him. He shuddered as he thought of its wording. "Gentleman wanted for special service." More than ever he resented Marie Schuyler, her yacht, her millions and her suspicious foreigners. He observed with some bitterness. "I'll take any job I can get of course. But I doubt if I'd be much good as a nurse to a high-flyer's heiress."

The quiet man seemed to understand. "You'll find this a man's job. Mr. Worth," he said, pleasantly. "Sit down." He became absorbed in the contents of a folder on the blotter in front of him.

Tony sat, with the impression that the eyes, which had so swiftly regarded him, had already photographed and developed a plate. Ed Keeler shifted his bulk to the edge of the desk. The room was silent again. June light, slanting through the window, threw into relief Tony's black eyebrows, righted above the firm set of his mouth.

At last the quiet man looked up and said, "Judge Fairchild is driving you out to his place in Greenwich after Court adjourns. Miss Schuyler's two other guardians will be there." He paused, as if that were settled, then went on, "Their idea is to send over a reliable ambassador of sorts, to prevent an undesirable marriage." His voice sharpened. "That is your presumable mission. Mr. Worth. But—His honor's fingers drummed on the folder—"Unofficially, I'm entrusting you with a graver one. I can give you little to go on. It's just a hunch of mine."

Tony leaned forward in his chair. "Suppose they don't give me the job?"

The ghost of a smile lifted the quiet man's lips. "They will," he asserted. He looked toward Keeler, who slid with a nod and a grin off his perch on the desk. "We know all about you," the Chief continued. "And Judge Fairchild has met your father. I hear he's visiting a brother in California. I'm sorry you've both had a bad time this past year." He sounded human and very kind.

Tony said gruffly, "Thanks." Fog got in his throat whenever he thought of his father.

The quiet man opened the folder. Lines deepened in his face while he kept his eyelids lowered. "Service intelligence has changed with the times into other forms of activity," he began abruptly. "Stealing military information and reporting it is handled mostly by small fry over here—or has been up until recently. We've got that pretty much under control, in view of a probable European war. But, in spite of everything we can do and are doing, this country, and all it stands for, has never been in greater danger. Do you follow me?"

"I think I do," Tony answered slowly. "You refer to the 'isms.' A lot of people don't take them very seriously."

"A lot of people are being taken in by them, you mean," the quiet man said with a trace of weariness. "As a matter of fact, we have a war on now which will soon be closely involved in a world struggle. The Chief bent over his desk, studying Tony as he talked. "Think of the cost from a business angle. Have you ever considered how many millions it takes to engineer sabotage, launch vicious rumors, swing mass opinion—or try to?"

His voice rose. "Do you believe for a moment that treacherous leaders of public opinion don't have to be financed? Here in our free country, we have two notorious camps fighting each other for what they both call Americanism. That requires paid time on the radio, halls for controversial in inflammatory meetings, publicity. They have to have money, don't they?"

Tony unconsciously clenched his fists. "But how does all that concern Miss Schuyler?" he asked bluntly.

The F. B. I. man leaned back in his swivel chair. "I'm coming to that. Europe is out of our jurisdiction," he said. "Yet every threat of our investigation leads us to believe in the existence of a clearing house abroad, controlling major operations of subversive activities at home here."

His eyes grew somber. "I used to be a newspaper man," he said, slowly, "and—well, in the past months, since February, in fact, I've come across a few odd bits in the papers and magazines that I've pieced together." He sat forward again. "It's my personal guess that an amalgamation of treasonable interest has been formed or is being formed. Such an alliance would work through that clearing house."

He pounded the desk without making a sound. "We've got to find its headquarters. I've wondered if the Riviera—"

"Blue seas, casinos and rich dames—all that tripe!" Ed Keeler put in.

Alabama Fiance Flouts Old Southern Chivalry

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — The Birmingham, Ala., salesman who took his bride-to-be to the county clerk's office here to obtain a marriage license surely must have believed that there's nothing like starting a wife out right.

When the license was filled out the deputy clerk demanded a dollar and a half. Turning to his future mate the salesman said, "Pay the man, sugar."

Then to onlookers he said: "Boy, am I starting her off right?"

Curb Service

ALBERMARLE, N. C. — The police car siren screamed to a stop and a vacationing Charlotte woman, headed for a long trip, pulled her automobile to the curb, expecting a ticket. Her baby began to bawl. But she got the surprise of her life.

"Have you got the baby's milk?" said the policeman.

The woman's relative had telephoned from Charlotte—40 miles away—to ask the police to tell her that the specially prepared milk was coming in another car.

Indians And Cards Won't Give Up Pennants Without Struggle

SECOND PLACERS KEEP PACE WITH YANKS, DODGERS

Five-Inning Game Against Browns Gives DiMaggio
Time for 49th

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer
Though they can turn out to be duds just as easily as high explosives, there were definite indications that the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Cardinals aren't going to give up the pennant races without a struggle.

At the moment, the battles are just as they were before the All-Star contest, with the New York Yankees three and a half games up on Cleveland in the American league, the Brooklyn Dodgers three games to the good over the Cards in the National. But there's the hitch—the pace-setters didn't pick up any ground.

The Yankees, opening a swing through the west, got in five innings last night before it rained in St. Louis. That proved just enough for Joe DiMaggio to run his hitting streak to 49 straight and for Lefty Gomez to blank the Browns,
1-0, on five hits. At the same time, though, the Indians were beating the Athletics 3-2, with Bobby Feller setting the A's down on six safeties and then clinching victory
No. 17 by scoring the deciding run
after belting a triple in the ninth.

In the other circuit the Dodgers also were kept from widening their margin. In one of the program's two afternoon games they tamed the Cincinnati Reds, 8-3, but the Cardinals stuck right on their heels. In a wild-eyed, freewheeling contest that involved five homers and eight pitchers, the Red Birds first ran up an 8-0 lead,
saw it disappear in one inning,
then came back with five more to blast the New York Giants, 13-9, and end their own five-game losing streak. The Phillies, winners of but two of their past 14 games, were whipped, 6-3, by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Chicago Cubs Vern Olsen came out winner, 3-1, over the Boston Braves. Al Javery, with Javery allowing only six hits to Olsen's seven.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox were rained out at Detroit. Thus Lefty Grove had to postpone until today his bid for major league victory No. 300.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 11.—(The Special News Service)—The name of Billy Conn's movie has been changed from "Kid Tinselt" to "The Pittsburgh Kid," which is more like it.... and Billy's opponent will be Jack Roper, the old heavyweight. Pilgrims returning from Detroit say old Bobo Newson was going around wondering right out loud why he wasn't on the All-Star team. Is Joe Louis slipping? Well, last Sunday Mike Jacobs long-distanced Chicago and tried to get promotional rights to Booker Beckwith, sensational Negro heavy with a string of 17 straight wins since turning pro. A year ago Mike turned down a chance to take over Beckwith because it would "detract from Louis." The Dan Toppings (you all know who she was) hit town today. Sonja was carrying her ice in plas-tinum, while Dan had the signed contract of Dean McAdams, Washington's U's great fullback, in his hip pocket.

The Anvil Chorus
The baseball writers are having a fine old time second-guessing Bill McKeechne's strategy in letting Claude Passeau pitch the ninth inning of the All-Star game.... McKeechne said: "I wish I'd had Riddle.".... Asked why he didn't call on Carl Hubbell, Bill said: "I didn't want to use any old men."

Short, Short Stories

Joe DiMaggio says for his dough Bucky Walters was the best elbow he looked at in the All-Star game.... Tommy Parr, due here soon, may be sent against Billy Conn at Washington.... If the Cubs ever get around to waiving on Johnny Rizzo, the Phils will ship him to Brooklyn for Blimp Phillips in a straight waiver exchange.... Texsas fans, some of whom drove 400 miles to see the bums, are blasting Tony Galletto for running out on King Levinsky. If you'll pardon us for herring in, the cowboys should have known better.... A golfer on the Klesner park course here became so disgusted with his game he presented his caddy with a $100 set of clubs and stomped off, talking to himself.

NYA TEAM WALLOPS HAINAN'S NINE, 10-5

With Anderson holding Hainan's to four safe hits, the NYA softball-ers last night pounded out eight resounding drives to score a 10-5 win in a game played at Kelly Field. J.
Arment connected for a homer for the winners while W. King pounded one out for Hainan's.

Brooklyn Dodgers Pummel Reds, 8-3

BROOKLYN, July 11.—Slapped down in the opener 8-3, the Cincinnati Reds tonight sought to even their current three-game series with the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Paul Derringer or Bucky Walters was Manager Bill McKeechne's pitching selection against Whitlow Wyatt of the Dodgers, who beat the Redlegs in two of three tries and is well on the way to a 20-game victory record for the season with 13 wins and four lost.

The visiting Reds were never in yesterday's ball game which opened their 12-game eastern tour. Kirby Higbe, whose righthand ammunition the Dodgers acquired from Philadelphia for $100,000 last winter, tossed a wide assortment of pitches which the Reds were able to pound for only five safeties. It was the 12th victory for Higbe, also a likely 20-game winner.

The defeat was chalked against Johnny Vander Meer and was his ninth compared to seven victories.
The setback put the Reds a full dozen games behind the flatbushers.

DRISCOLLS SLAP SANITARY 1-0 ON HOMER BY KERR

Carroll Club Hands Trades
Class Fifth Straight
Loss, 5-3

Stepping up to the plate in the last of the sixth with two singles already chalked up in as many trips to the plate, "Howdy" Kerr last night blasted the homer that enabled Driscollwood to eke out a 1-0 shutout of the Sanitary.

Deadlocked until Kerr's drive into right field, the Sanitary had failed to score on a total of six hits and the Driscolls on four safe clouts.
Kerr also slapped out a brace of singles for a perfect night at the plate—three out of three.

In the other game last night in the Class A loop, the Trades Class suffered their fifth straight defeat
—this time a 5-3 drubbing at the hands of the Carroll club. Nonno cracked out a double and a triple for the eight-man Carroll squad while B. Rhinehart did most for the losers.

Driving out 13 hits in the only class B game played last night, the Presbyterians handed the Christians a 12-5 shellacking despite five errors chalked up against them.

Pridon of the Presbyterians and T. Hrvatin of the Christians led the hitters with three out of four.

RIDDLE TO ALL BUT REDS - By Jack Sords

ELMER
RIDDLE, SOPHOMORE
MOUND STAR OF THE
CINCINNATI REDS

32,000 Honor Feller As He Tallies 17th

CLEVELAND, July 11.—Bob Feller boosted his batting to .179 and his pitching victories to 17 last night to beat Philadelphia 3 to 2
and monopolize "Bob Feller Night."
The 22-year-old fireballer looked like another Babe Ruth as he quote a mighty triple to the center field wall in the ninth inning to come home a moment later on Lou Boudrea's single with the winning run. Earlier Bob drove in a run with a sharp single.

The triumph, the 99th of his major league career, was the first for the Cleveland star since June 22. He had been knocked out of the box three successive times.

The Feller celebration drew 32-820 fans, including about 4,000 sandal players who were guests of the club. Bob was presented with a plaque by the city's young athletes and the Sporting News scroll for being "Player of 1940."

New York's victory in St. Louis kept the Yankees 3½ games in front of the Indians, who renew warfare against the Athletics tomorrow.
